

Washing instructions POLY

POLY is boil, light and chlorine fast. However, we recommend to observe the following care instructions.

Washing

While chlorine or other optical brighteners will not cause discoloration they will however affect the yarn fiber. We therefore recommend all embroidered articles to be washed with mild detergents. If washed by hand, ample water should be used to allow the goods to move freely. Both of the above apply in particular to embroidered items that are washed for the first time.

It is most important to thoroughly rinse the embroidery before wringing or dry spinning. Embroidered clothing should never be left lying in a damp or wet pile.

Dry cleaning – stain removal

POLY may be dry cleaned.

The stain removers should not contain any bleaching agents or colour removers if they come into direct contact with the embroidery. It is necessary to rinse the embroidery after stain removal.

Ironing

All the embroideries shall be ironed on the reverse side or in-between two cloths.
